WESTERN WASHINGTON ANNUAL FAIR.

OLYMPIA, Oct. [illegible], 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The fair is over and a busy week it has been for those connected with it, from the wheelman to the president. Had it not been for the rainstorm which continued without intermission during the entire week the fair would have been a success in every way; but as it was, between the rain, the menagerie, the Phelps troupe and the horse trainer, the association had everything to contend with, and I presume will again be in debt this year. However, it is to be hoped that in the future the success of the Western Washington Industrial Association may be undoubted, and that the infant of to-day may before many years be considered a giant. At the annual election which took place last evening, the following directors were elected for 1876: John Tennant, C. W. Lawton, A. A. Manning, W. Meyenbauer, C. C. Hewitt, W. O. Bush, G. A. Barnes, L. G. Abbott, S. Baxter, R. H. Hewitt, I. P. Vinen, Thos. Webb, George H. Foster.

The following officers were also elected to serve during the coming year: W. O. Bush, Thurston, president; John Tennant, Whatcom, vice president; R. H. Hewitt, Thurston, recording secretary; I. V. Vinen, Thurston, corresponding secretary; G. A. Barnes, Thurston, treasurer. It is thought that the general exhibit of fruit and vegetables was much larger this year than previously, while the display of other articles was smaller than usual, and it is hoped that next year the public, and especially the farmers, will take the matter in hand early and not only have the fair buildings erected, but also have each something to exhibit, so that it will not be necessary to visit Philadelphia to learn the resources and industry of this territory.

I shall now proceed to give a condensed report of the prizes awarded in the various classes and trust that if any errors are found therein they may be reported to the record ing secretary, R. H. Hewitt, Esq., Olympia, for correction.

Remington sewing machine, S. J. Spencer, hon. men.

Harness and saddle, R. Mack, prem.

Riveting hammer and tri square, G. S. Allen, dip.

Curled maple tool chest and horse shoes, G. S. Allen, prem and dip.

Family soap, W. Jenson, prem.

Florence sewing machine, hon. men.

Sandstone, fire place and grindstones, S. D. Rhinehart, prem and dip.

Paper bucket, S. Stork, dip.

The committee complains of an almost total absence of wood manufactures, highly recommend the scrubbing brush mentioned above and ask the public to encourage home manufacture.

CLASS V.—DOMESTIC MANUFACTURES.

Family soap, W. Jenson, prem.

CLASS VI.—FLOWERS.

Cut flowers, 82 varieties, Mrs. A. Hurst; Vick's chromo $5. 75 varieties, Mrs. Bigelow; Vick's chromo $10. 105 varieties, Pauline Butt; Sis. Vick's chromo, $10. W. O. Bush, at [illegible] D. D[illegible].

Grasses and Immortelles, Miss Nettie Horton, [illegible] dip.

CLASS VII.—DAIRY.

New butter, D. F. Drury, 1st; J. F. Browning, 2d; Mrs. M. J. Clarke, 3d; old butter, Mr. [illegible] C. Hewitt, 1st.

CLASS VIII.—MISCELLANEOUS.

Curious cave found in Snohomish, J. London, dip.

Elaborate pearl picture, Miss M. Tilly, dip.

Wax flowers, shell and moss wreath, Mrs. R. A. Tilly, prem.

Shell and moss wreath, Mrs. F. Baldwin, diploma.

Bracket of native shells, Mrs. M. Baldwin, premium.

Shells, Mrs. A. J. Littlejohn, diploma.

Shell cross (very pretty), Miss Josie Munson, 1st prem.

Cardboard cross and frames, Miss Georgia Perceval, hon. men.

Burr frames, exhibited by Mrs. Stork, Mrs. Bigelow and Mrs. Littlejohn, prem. and hon. men.

Whitlings pressed leaves brackets, Miss C. Hewitt, hon. men.

Dogwood stick, C. Granger, hon. ment.

Shell frames by Mrs. Stork, Mrs. Ruddle and Mrs. Littlejohn, prem and dip.

DRUGS.

W. I. C. Neate made a very fine display of preparations in pharmacy and perfumery, every article being manufactured or put up by himself; award, a diploma.

C. B. Mann, a very meritorious exhibit of drugs, medicinal compounds from original formulas and show-case containing perfumery and fancy articles, diploma.

Wreath of pansies in shell frame, Mrs. W. Brown, dip.

Best machine sewing, No. 86, 1st.

Silk patchwork, Mrs. Steele, hon. mention.

Canvas embroidery, Miss Ida Blinn (not ten years), hon. mention.

Calico apron, Mrs. Bush, hon. mention.

The following articles show worthy industry:

Canvas tidy, Miss Fanny Steele, hon. mention.

Lamp mat, Miss Nellie Willard, hon. mention.

Yarn rugs, Miss Thompson, hon. mention.

Cotton crochet tidy, Miss Tirzah Bigelow, hon. mention.

Phantom baskets, Miss Emma Smith, Mrs. Prescott, Miss Lucy Munson.

Special mention is made of many other articles exhibited in this class, and the report of the committee closes by recommending that a special premium of 50 cents be awarded to Christienne Mathieson, of Port Madison, for hand sewing on an apron and quilt, being worth attention as the work of a little girl six years old, and your reporter is quite sure that the little girl is deserving of it, too. The numbers mentioned in this class refer to exhibitors at Snohomish County Fair.

CLASS XI.—WORKS OF ART.

Oriental painting and specimen of writing, Miss F. Baldwin, prem. and dip.

Penmanship, Miss L. McFadden, dip.

Oriental wreath, Miss Lucy Munson, 1st prem.

Pencil drawings, Harry McElroy, prem.

Crayons, Fred Elder, prem.

Ornamental printing, E. T. Gunn, prem.

Penmanship, C. L. Stone (ten years), dip.

H. Mathewson (eight years), gold pen; Leslie Hewitt (eight years), dip.

Pencil drawings, Leslie Hewitt, gold pen.

Oriental painting, Mrs. A. J. Littlejohn, dip.

Mr. Geo. Petherick is highly spoken of by the committee for making a fine display of drawings in Sepia and paintings executed by himself. Were this gentleman less modest as to his abilities, and located in some place where he would be appreciated as he deserves, he would no doubt make a name for himself of which any one might be proud.

The pencil drawings by Master Leslie Hewitt are most astonishing for a child of his age, and he is one of the few cases in which, after severe illness, a new talent seems to spring forth and blossom with new thoughts and ideas. If at all possible the boy should be sent to a school of design where this gift could be properly developed.

In the committee's report I regret to find that a very fine oriental painting and leather work frame by Mrs. C. B. Bagley is entirely left out, and as it was certainly entitled to a diploma if not a premium, I cannot but consider that it must have been an oversight on the part of the committee.

CLASS XII.—POULTRY.

Mrs. I. R. Huntington, light and dark Brahmas, prem.

A. Say, white Poland, prem.

CLASS XIV.—NATURAL RESOURCES.

Stone fireplace and grindstones, S. D. Rinehart, dip.

Curious collection of water worn pebbles from Hood's canal, exhibited by F. H. Cook.

A fine specimen of Skagit coal was exhibited by Joseph Chilberg, which is worth more than a mere passing notice. I have been informed that during the past year 60,000 tons of this coal have been delivered in San Francisco at $15 per ton. It has been tested in gas works and the result has been that seven bushels of it will make as much gas as ten of Nanaimo coal. I have also learned that it is the nearest approach to Cumberland coal that has yet been discovered. My informant is Mr. Piper, the manufacturer of candy in Seattle, a gentleman that I should presume to be a competent judge of such matters. If this coal is of the quality above stated I should think it would be well worth a trial by those interested.

A fine specimen of moss agate in rough was exhibited by L. G. Abbott.

H. I. Chapman exhibited a piece of rock containing petrified shells found at McAllister creek.

Mr. G. A. Barnes exhibited a piece of petrified wood found in Pierce county.

A fine collection of gold and silver bearing quartz, copper, cinnabar and various ores and minerals was displayed by Mr. S. W. Childs, of East Portland, Oregon. The case also contained several curiosities, such as petrified blackberries on a magnificent moss agate, etc., from the great wall of China; granite from the Salt Lake temple, together with various petrifactions, all making a collection worthy of note.

Messrs. James Dunlap and M. H. Roundtree exhibited curiously shaped vegetables.

CLASS XV.—WINES, ETC.

Lager beer in bottles, W. Schaffer, prem and dip; in kegs, M. Schmeig, prem and dip.

Currant wine, J. Dunlap, prem and dip.

Raspberry wine, J. Masterson, prem and dip.

Black wine, A. Say, prem and dip.

Preserved cider, A. A. Manning, prem and dip.

CLASS XVI.—STOCK.

Best yearling colt, W. O. Bush, prem.

Best pair 2 year olds, L. G. Abbott, prem.

Best yearling heifer, J. Chapman, prem.

Best 2 year old filly brood mare, B. Cook, prem.

Amongst the miscellaneous articles, which were not reported on by the committee, was a terrible looking knife which actually belonged to the Indian chief Leschi, who was well known during the Indian war in this Territory. I believe it was placed on exhibition by Mr. West of Olympia, and I think it ought to be in some good museum. I find on looking over the foregoing report that G. S. Allen has got a premium for a handsome tool chest made from curled maple inlaid with walnut, and as the article attracted considerable attention I think it well to state that it was manufactured by Mr. Titus of Tumwater, and being his work, I presume he should have got the credit of it. Many Indian curiosities were also exhibited, which were not mentioned. Mrs. Dobbins exhibited some hand some specimens of hair work. No premiums having been offered for displays of stationery, they were likewise left out; nevertheless the display made by A. J. Burr and T. G. Lowe & Co. was excellent. A beautiful shell work wreath was exhibited by Mrs. Giddings, but I have failed to find it recorded. For beauty of finish and fine taste displayed, it could not be excelled. Mr. Hensley was present, exhibiting a needle threading thimble—very useful for blind folks.

The young ladies of the Episcopal church provided an excellent lunch each day and evening, for which they charged moderately. The proceeds are to go to the Sunday school library.

As I have said all I can think of on this subject, I shall now bid adieu to the Fair.

REPORTER.

LETTER FROM OLYMPIA.

OLYMPIA, W. T., Oct. 22, 1875.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

"It never rains but it pours," is an old and true saying, at least as far as Washington Territory is concerned, for I think, without exception, I have never seen rain fall faster or in larger quantities than it did to-day. The consequence is, that sporting men are considerably discouraged, as no races can take place, and betting runs very low. The legislature meets every morning, however, with punctuality, rain or no rain, and considerable business is transacted daily.

Mr. Ringer introduced a bill to-day [illegible] the term "vagrancy," which, if it passes, will be likely to drive all thieves, [illegible], habitual drunkards, and those who object to making public their means of living, out of our towns. The sheriff and officers are ordered to look after the welfare of such persons, and the punishment of vagrancy is very severe.

H. B. No. 72, was also introduced in the house as a substitute for C. B. No. 4, fixing the time and place of holding supreme and district courts. As it may be of importance to lawyers I shall give you a few items concerning it. The bill provides for the holding of court at Steilacoom the 2d Monday in January and the 1st Monday in August of each year, at Seattle, 4th Monday in January and 3d Monday in August, Port Townsend, 4th Monday in February and 2d Monday in September, Vancouver, 3d Monday in March and 3d Monday in November, Olympia, 1st Monday in April, and 3d Monday in December, Walla Walla, 1st Monday in May and 3d Monday in October, Colfax, 1st Monday in June, Oysterville, 4th Monday in June and 1st Monday in January, Yakima City, 1st Monday in October and 2d Monday in July. The Supreme Court to be held in Olympia.

Bills were also introduced permitting aliens and foreign corporations to acquire, hold and dispose of real estate. Whether this will effect the Northern Pacific Railroad or not I cannot say. When the bills have been printed we shall be able to judge better of their merits.

The following bills have already been approved by the Governor: H. B. 1, authorizing the town of Olympia to levy a special tax; H. B. 3, for the maintenance of common schools in Jefferson county, and C. B. 7, providing for the settlement of the estate of Sumner B. Hinds.

The total number of bills introduced in the Legislature is ninety six, of which twenty have passed both houses. It is to be hoped that committees will be active during the remainder of the session, in clearing off old bills, and not leave a number of good bills go to the waste basket as was done last session, which was the result of nothing but pure cultusness.

Several individuals have had their names changed, but up to the present time no divorce bills have been presented, which is probably owing to the fact that the executive refuses to sign any such, as unconstitutional.

As next Wednesday has been designated as the day for investigating asylum matters, it is presumed that a large number of spectators will be present on the occasion.

Owing to the fact that the speaker is a rapid reader and the chief clerk a very quick penman, the business of the house is very rapidly transacted and afternoon sessions are rare.

OLYMPIA, October 23d.

By accident I failed to get my report mailed last evening and I also find that, by the line being down, my telegram was not forwarded until to-day, which will account for a double report.

H. B. 41, introduced by Mr. Foster and passed in the House to-day, is "an act to amend an act establishing pilots and pilot regulations for Juan de Fuca Straits, Puget Sound and all American waters pertaining thereto."

H. B. 73, by Mr. Hughes, for the construction of a wagon road across the Cascade mountains via Snoqualmie pass, is a bill which may be considered important, seeking, as it does, to connect Seattle with Walla Walla. The estimated cost of the road is $20,000, but as the bill has been ordered printed, I shall defer further remarks on it for the present.

The bill providing for the time and places of holding supreme and district courts has been made the special order for Tuesday next, when it is thought probable the bill may be amended somewhat.

Mr. Miller gave notice to-day that on next Saturday he intends to introduce another bill to regulate the sale of eggs by weight.

H. B. 41, which was killed in the House this morning, was an act authorizing the county commissioners of Walla Walla county to perfect titles to lands for county seat purposes. The Walla Walla delegation were not in favor of its passage, so it must have been O. K.

A bill was introduced in the Council to-day on the subject of providing for the education of deaf and dumb persons. The bill is a good one and one that should have been introduced during the last session, as there is quite a number of this class of persons in this Territory in need of some care on the part of the Territory.

The bill introduced by Mr. Hoover (C. B. 2) in relation to the care and keeping of Territorial convicts, I have not yet seen, but presume it will be printed. I believe some of the provisions of the bill are, that prisoners are to be confined in the most secure jail in each district where the offenses were committed. As far as security is concerned, I have seen but two places in this Territory in which prisoners can be said to be secure, and that is in the block house at the upper end of our city, and in the penitentiary. If it had been otherwise, murderers could not have escaped so frequently as they have done during the past two years. The jailors are to receive 90 cents per diem for boarding, keeping, clothing, bedding and paying all guards necessary. When the bill has been printed I shall expatiate on it further.

As the

INSANE ASYLUM INVESTIGATION

Will take place on Wednesday, it may not be out of order to publish a few of the remarks made by visitors to that institution and recorded in the register as follows:

J. C. Horr, Olympia, very much pleased.

Mrs. Flora Ross and Mrs. Workman—Everything is in perfect order and the patients all seem well cared for.

Thomas T. Minor, M. D., Port Townsend, W. T.—Wards clean, patients comfortable and receiving every comfort needed, and so far as I can see, well treated in every respect.

Seigfried Marcus, San Francisco—Wards are very clean, and patients receiving every comfort, as I can see.

If space permitted I should have given many other names, together with the remarks of the visitors, but I have stated enough to show that at least my report was truthful and by no means exaggerated, and no matter what conclusion the House may come to on this subject, I am ready to substantiate every word of my report, without excepting a single item.

The Phelps troupe played the "Sea of Ice" to a large audience last evening, and leaves for Portland to-night.

TUESDAY MORNING OCTOBER 26, 1875

THE ELECTION

We can present our readers with but meager returns of the election in the State. The light vote [illegible] present [illegible] very small vote [illegible] The falling off [illegible] per cent of the vote of 1874. Should the same ratio hold good throughout the State the count of this election will [illegible] 9,000 votes.

The State has probably gone for Lane by a plurality of from 1,200 to 1,500 over Warren, and by a small majority over all. This of course is to a great extent a matter of estimates and the count may vary it considerably.

Whitney has fallen below the expectations of those who made the lowest figures for his support. We said a few days since that his vote would probably be not far from 1000. The indications now are that he has fallen below that number. The combined vote of Whitney and Dimick hardly exceeds 1000, unless they have done better elsewhere than in the localities reported.

Of course the Democracy are jubilant over the result. The shrewder ones of them however will take time to make comparisons and computations upon the subject of the relative strength of the two parties represented in the falling off of the aggregate vote, before forming any conclusion as to the value of this election as an indication of the probable results of future contests. That the State has elected the Democratic candidate by a small majority at an election in which only three fourths of the voters participated, may mean not that the State is Democratic but just the opposite.

THE PRESIDENT'S CUBAN POLICY

The dispatches published yesterday said it was supposed the President in his message to Congress now soon to convene intends to take strong ground with reference to Cuban affairs. It is not stated what is the nature of the strong ground he proposes to take. It is really to be hoped he will not urge any action calculated to encourage the "patriots" in their career of rapine and plunder. The farce of a struggle for independence which has been in fact only an excuse for organized lawlessness has already been enacted in Cuba longer than it should have been. The history of our own nation, and the form of our government, naturally places the American people in sympathy with any considerable body of the subjects of a monarchy who rise against their government. Upon this principle the interest of Americans in the Cuban insurrection may be explained. It has worn the garb of a revolt of the people against the oppressions of a monarchy and a monarchy, too, which is a century at least behind the age in all those liberal ideas which are dear to our people. No wonder, therefore, that Americans accepting the movement for what it has professed to be, should sympathize with the insurgents. But it must be admitted by any candid person who will take the trouble of examining into the subject, that the revolt instead of a strike for liberty is a strike for plunder. The raids of the "patriots" have been successful if viewed merely as incursions of bold marauders into the settlements of the country without regard to the matter of their adherence to the cause of the government or to the fortunes of the rebels. There has been indiscriminate robbery of friend and foe and the waste of the country without any intelligent purpose, has gone on for years with as much energy as is consistent with the general character of the people engaged in it. But beyond that, the rebellion is a fraud and [illegible] in this sense, it is a crime against civilization and humanity. It would be a great misfortune, and reflection upon the Republic, should anything be done to strengthen the hands of the marauders, or to embarrass the Spanish authorities in their efforts to restore law and order in Cuba. If the President should deem it proper to suggest some action which would throw the weight of the moral influence of our government in favor of putting an end to the struggle by the insurgent chieftains, he would deserve the thanks of the country and of all Christian peoples, but in any other direction the less our government has to do with Cuban affairs the better.

OCCUPATIONS LOST

There was no money used yesterday to bribe voters and no whisky to make them drunk. The result was an orderly and honest election. The only persons who can have any grounds to complain of unfairness are those who stayed away from the polls and afterwards discovered that their votes were needed just when it was too late. This way of running an election seems to please the average good citizen very much but it is rather a bore to that class of voters who were wont in the good old days to turn an honest penny on election day. As a general proposition, we are opposed to all changes in the social economy which take away the employment of any class of people, but we must make an exception in this case and declare that the running of elections without the use of corruption funds is very much more satisfactory and manifestly a great improvement. Now let it be understood [illegible] forth that there is to be no [illegible] and that whoever gives or [illegible] to a voter [illegible] the [illegible]

THE [illegible] SPEAKERSHIP

The San Francisco Call, speculating upon the next Speakership of the National House of Representatives, says: Some Republican Congressmen say they will vote for a Hard Money Democrat for Speaker instead of throwing away their votes as a compliment, and thus bring about [illegible] Democrat into the Speakership [illegible] Ohio election went [illegible] inflationists, it was said at Washington that there was a movement on foot to bring about the election of an inflationist Speaker of the House. If one of that character [illegible] the Democratic caucus nominate [illegible] it was were to concentrate their votes on one of the opposite type like Mr. Kerr of Indiana, or Cox of New York, with the hope of inducing enough Democratic members of that way of thinking to join them and carry the election. But as Ohio has gone, and Pennsylvania is likely in consequence to go, against inflation the Republicans need scarcely fear that their opponents, who are in the majority in the House, will nominate an inflationist. Indeed ever since the result in Ohio was known it is thought [illegible] in regard to the speakership. Among his congressional brethren of Illinois the friends of Kerr assert that with the [illegible] he has pledged to him in Missouri, Illinois, Kentucky, Indiana and other Western States, combined with the Eastern vote he is certain to get his election is already assured.

The explorations of Mr. Henry M. Stanley in the interior of Africa give promise of more satisfactory results than any geographical expeditions undertaken for a long time. He is making thorough work of it. Having taken with him a boat which he set up after reaching the lakes, he is surveying the coast line of those great inland bodies of water and making an accurate map of them. He has already found that much of what passes current as geographical knowledge respecting those lakes is pure fiction.

The statement made by us a few days ago that Hon. J. K. Luttrell's Democracy was of recent beginning was erroneous. He was a Democrat before the Independent movement and has never severed his relations with that party. The Independents voted for him for Congress when he was elected three years ago and were willing to support him as their own [illegible] but this year but he was nominated by the Democrats and elected as their nominee.

It is stated that the campaign in New York lacks vigor on the part of the Democrats in consequence of the suppression of the canal ring which heretofore has always furnished a large amount of money for election purposes. If this is the truth it ought to help rather than hurt the Democracy.

A DELUGED ISLAND

[illegible] RECENT DISASTERS ON THE TEXAS COAST ONLY REPETITIONS OF A SIMILAR CALAMITY NINETEEN YEARS AGO.

Editor Chicago Times: In a recent issue of the Times it is stated that no such calamity as that which has just destroyed [illegible] on the coast of Texas has ever been known in that region of the [illegible]. [illegible] 1856 [illegible] Isle Derniere [illegible] of the parish of Terrebonne [illegible] Louisiana [illegible] for many years prior to the [illegible] parishes [illegible] dwellings on the island and during the summer months [illegible] the cool breeze of the Gulf [illegible] and game [illegible] were abundant [illegible] varied amusements in the evening. Each family [illegible] acquainted with the other [illegible] It was one large family settled in many houses. [illegible] and every act with grace.

On a sultry day in August about one hundred families were on the island enjoying themselves in this way when clouds rose above the horizon which betokened a storm. The wind began to blow and increased until it became a gale. After the wind had blown for some time so as to drive the waters in a certain direction it veered around and blew so as to drive the waters in an opposite direction and in time to drive them over the island to the horror and despair of terror stricken men, women and children. Trees were torn up by the roots, dwellings parted from their foundations in the treacherous sands, horses and cattle were drowned and boats loosed from their moorings drifted here and there. Various means were devised as the waves rose higher and higher to save the people from the death staring them in the face. Some remained in their dwellings, trusting the beating waves would not shake their foundations. The dismantled hulk of a schooner was sought by many. The dwellings all proved insecure but the schooner's hulk saved all who sought it. All night the waves swept over the island and when the waters abated the tear dimmed eyes of the survivors wandered over a waste strewn with wrecks and with all that was mortal of one hundred and fifty men, women and children—the costliest sacrifice Louisiana could give of all that was courtly in manner, astute in purpose, of her old regime.

Touching incidents were narrated by the survivors. A gentleman insisted his wife should leave their dwelling and seek safety in the schooner. She refused to go. He remained with her in the dwelling and both perished. Another gentleman on his way to the hulk came across a child which had become separated from its mother and snatched it from the surging waves, and bore it in safety to the schooner.

A young gentleman who in a boyish freak had run away from an elegant home and was a sailor before the mast for many years rendered substantial aid by his seamanlike qualities and stout heart in keeping the schooner so that it couldn't ride the storm.

A Terrebonne planter who had previously lost a leg saw a billiard table floating by him [illegible] in the water and got upon it and was enabled by it to save an old negro woman from drowning. The billiard table floated into the marshes where after passing several days they were rescued by a party in search of survivors.

A gentleman and his wife were carried by the violence of the waves into the marshy shores. When the waters subsided they found themselves on a small barren island where they lived for more than nine days on raw shell fish [illegible] when they were accidentally discovered by some fishermen.

[illegible] the wind [illegible] them and herself [illegible] each other's hands and thus [illegible] themselves against the waves as wave after wave beat against this mother's phalanx.

When the waters abated troops of kin and friends came to the mournful task of seeking after the living and dead. In their search for the latter they had been preceded by miscreants who had plundered the bodies of watches and trinkets and whatever was valuable. Some were caught in the act, and answered for it with their lives.

Derniere Isle is now in its history a thing of the past. The hunter still looks there for game and the fisherman spreads his nets there as of yore, but it is not known as it once was as a group of genial homes gathered as it were sweetly and pleasantly dwelt in unity under one roof tree.

"ARE YOU GOING TO PAINT?"

Gilroy, March 1 1875

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN: In an experience of three years with the Averill Chemical Paint more than one half the jobs have chalked, peeled or cracked off, notwithstanding the Paint was warranted to do neither, and out of sixteen failures, the California Chemical Paint Company have refused to furnish Paint to repaint but six of the sixteen. I refer to the following houses that have cracked, peeled and chalked off in this place: James Corey, H. C. Morey, M. D. Thomas Darrough, L. J. Bryant, F. H. Farmer, Frank Oldham, J. H. Trickey, G. Woodward, Thomas Rea, P. Ball, D. Whitney, William Wilson, J. McElhinney, F. B. Hitchcock, J. A. Baxter, Music Hall, Catholic Church and I might mention many more.

J. B. RHINEHART, Painter

22 Post St., San Francisco, Sept 11, 1874

To Proprietors Chemical Paint Company—Gents: I had my house in Oakland painted with your paint. It was warranted to be good and satisfactory in every respect. I was obliged to have the third coat put on to make it look as if it had been really painted and even then I think one good coat of Lead Paint would have given the house a better appearance. I think you ought to make up to me the loss I sustained besides the annoyance I felt, knowing that an inferior article had been put on when a No. 1 article had been promised. Hoping to hear from you soon on the subject, I remain,

Yours, resp'y DR. HENRY KNOX,

Dentist, 22 Post street, San Francisco

Gilroy, Sept. 4, 1875

To whom it may concern: Seeing in various papers that the "California Chemical Paint Company" continue to deceive people by saying that the Averill paint will neither peel, crack nor chalk off, I deem it my duty to say that my house painted with the above named paint in the fall of 1873, failed in less than eighteen months after being painted by peeling, cracking and chalking off in the worst manner imaginable. I also observe that the company have my name in their printed matter as reference. This was done without my knowledge or consent.

E. J. BRYANT

Gilroy, March 1875

To whom it may concern: My house painted with the Averill Chemical Paint in June, 1873 failed in a little over one year after being painted, by chalking, peeling, wasting and changing color, some light color turning dark. The California Chemical Paint Co. having no knowing to this and [illegible] continue to [illegible] the public by saying that the Averill paint will not peel, crack nor chalk.

THOMAS DARROUGH

Gilroy Sept 4 1875

To whom it may concern: My house painted with the Averill Chemical Paint manufactured by the California Chemical Paint Company of San Francisco about two years ago failed in less than one year after it was painted by chalking off and changing color and I had a portion of it repainted.

J. B. TRICKEY

Gilroy Sept 4 1875

To whom it may concern: I had my fence painted in the fall of 1873 with the Averill Chemical Paint which was represented not to chalk, peel or crack off, but it chalked off in three months after it was painted.

Then Use the "Rubber Paint,"

The Best Paint in the World.

San Jose Cal. March 20 1875

Pacific Rubber Paint Company, San Francisco—Gentlemen: I have used and sold the Rubber Paint in this city during the last four years. We have at one hundred buildings painted with the Rubber Paint. Among the prominent ones are the State Normal School, Gates Institute, City Market, the residence of Josiah Belden, J. W. Hinds, President Gold Note Bank, J. B. Arguello, Santa Clara, etc. It has never failed to give satisfaction with a test of from one to four years so that its durability has been well tested. My sales last year were nearly five thousand gallons.

Truly yours, AMASA EATON

Oakland Cal., March 22 1875

Pacific Rubber Paint Company—Gents: My residence painted with the Rubber Paint about eight months ago so far has proved all you claim for it. It is as bright and beautiful as when finished.

Yours etc. WALLACE EVERSON

San Francisco, March 22, 1875

Pacific Rubber Paint Company—Gentlemen: I have used your Rubber Paint on my yacht, thus far the action of the water has had no effect upon it so far as any experience of the Rubber Paint is the best paint I ever used for painting vessels especially in salt water. It adheres firmly to the wood, does not peel, and retains its gloss.

CAPT. EDWIN MOODY

Alvarado Cal., June 10 1875

Pacific Rubber Paint Company—Gents: We the undersigned, interested parties in the Odd Fellows Hall of this place, feel it a duty as well as a pleasure to say to you that we are highly pleased not only with the appearance of the Rubber Paint on our hall but think it at least twenty per cent cheaper than any paint we could have used, and we also recommend it to all as superior to any other paint as regards its covering and spreading qualities.

Salem Oregon July 9 1875

Pacific Rubber Paint Company—Gents: After a most fair and accurate test, gallon for gallon of Atlantic Lead and Linseed Oil and the Rubber Paint of your manufacture and the Averill Chemical Paint, I find the Rubber Paint to cover [illegible] two [illegible] to the gallon than Lead and Oil Paint and [illegible] per cent more than the Averill Chemical Paint.

CITY.

LOST IN THE WOODS.—We are laid under obligation to our regular Kalama correspondent for the following: Yesterday Mrs M—— and Miss L—— a couple of well known ladies of that place went out into the woods back of town to gather mosses and leaves for ornamental work. Busily intent upon the objects of search they paid little heed to the route they traveled until the approach of night warned them of the necessity of returning. Looking about, they failed to find the path by which they came and realized that they were lost. Every step added to their bewilderment and darkness soon set in their situation became painfully unpleasant. Hearing the movements of some animal in the brush near them they ascended an alder tree with a celerity that would astonish the average female. The animal, whatever it was, remained in the vicinity sometime and the ladies remained in the tree where with penknives drawn they determined to make it warm for any foe that might attack them. About midnight they heard the welcome shout of Dick Sorter the veteran hunter who was at the head of a party in search of them. A few minutes more and with his lantern was at the tree. The thankfulness of the ladies and the joy of their friends can be imagined better than described.

AN INTERESTING WORK.—Thomas B. Van Horne, U. S. A., and for several years post chaplain at Vancouver, returned home on the last steamer from the East. At the request of Major General George H. Thomas made in the summer of 1865 Mr Van Horne has for some time been engaged in writing the History of the Army of the Cumberland. The work will comprise two volumes, and contain a detailed history of the Army of the Cumberland, its organization, campaigns and battles. The data are obtained chiefly from General Thomas' private military journal official and other documents furnished the author by him. The manuscript was completed some time ago and is now in press. Mr Van Horne's object in visiting the East was to superintend the publication of the forthcoming work. Early in December the first installment of the books is expected to arrive here, and will soon thereafter be delivered to subscribers. The work is printed in the highest style of the typographical art, and will be illustrated with 22 campaign and battle maps, compiled by Edward Ruger. Of the correctness and literary merits the work is spoken of by the press in terms of praise.

LEG BROKEN.—Owing to the accident which befell the steamer Owyhee while coming down from Wallula on Saturday, Gen. Howard and Dr Bailey, who started for Walla Walla to be present at the amputation of Capt. Baden's leg were unable to make the through connection. They could not get beyond Celilo and accordingly remained over at the Dalles. Yesterday they were at that point all day. The Nelson started down from Wallula, and arrived at Celilo last evening. This morning that steamer will start up the river again. In consequence of the unavoidable detention, the gentlemen mentioned will not be able to reach Walla Walla, before Wednesday noon. Gangrene had far advanced in the injured limb, and it being deemed hazardous in the extreme to delay the operation, the limb was amputated yesterday about noon. Dr Alden, the post surgeon, assisted by several physicians performed the operation. The limb was taken off just above the ankle, as mortification had [illegible] its work at the foot. Up to four o'clock last evening the patient was doing well, and strong hopes were entertained that he would be brought safely through.

TRAMPS AGAIN.—Speaking of this useful (?) and ornamental (?) class of citizens, a cotemporary says: "A gentleman residing a short distance south of this city informs us that while absent from home on Saturday a tramp [illegible] at the house, and, after being fed [illegible] demanded what money there was upon the premises. The lady, although very much frightened, stoutly asserted there was nothing of the nature about the premises, and said that if he would wait until her husband came, which would be very soon, he would be able to relieve his present wants. This put him on his guard, and muttering some imprecations he sneaked off, being careful not to take the public highway."

A GOOD ONE.—One of the teachers connected with the public schools of the city received the following bit of poetry yesterday afternoon from a boy, one of his pupils. The little fellow did not attend school during the forenoon, and the stern "parient" penned the subjoined lines during a poetical mood, and sent it by the hand of the lad to the teacher.

Teacher, forgive this boy to lick
he staid from school as he was sick
he plays not hookey, That I warrant,
And accept The Thanks of me his Parent.

Comment on the above literary curiosity is needless. Suffice it to say the teacher excused the boy.

EXCAVATION.—W. H. Butts who has the contract for making the necessary excavation for the new brick building which will occupy the site of the old Pony Saloon on Front street, has commenced work. The old wooden shell which has so long stood sandwiched between two large two-story buildings has been torn away piecemeal and the debris burned up. A large force of Chinamen are employed in digging for the foundation. In the course of a week the work will be finished and the brick basement laid. Mr. Byers has the contract for the construction of the building, and will crowd the work forward with all possible dispatch.

A GOOD BOAT.—By competent judges the new steamer Orient is pronounced a capital boat, possessing the two essential requirements to be a "double-pow..." and speed. The Orient has recently towed several vessels down the river, and is declared to be a valuable boat for that purpose. In point of speed she is said to be "no slouch," having several times made the trip from Kalama to Portland in three hours.

POCKET STOVE.—Mr. G. W. Traver of this city, is the agent for a patent pocket cook stove. It is very simple in construction and can be folded up into the smallest possible compass. The invention is a very clever contrivance and works like a charm. By means of it water can be boiled within six minutes, coffee or tea made in a short time and in fact a whole meal can be prepared over this little stove.

STRUCK A ROCK.—While the O. S. N. Co.'s steamer Owyhee was on the way down from Wallula on Saturday, she ran on a sunken rock and knocked a hole in the hull. The accident occasioned some delay, but the steamer managed to reach Celilo. It will be necessary for the Owyhee to be hauled out on the ways at Celilo, and have the required repairs made. She will be ready to resume trips in a few days.

WEATHER REPORT.—From the records of the U. S. Signal Station of Observation, Portland, Oregon, October 25, 1875.

	7 A. M.	2 P. M.	9 P. M.

STARTED DOWN.—Yesterday forenoon the steamer Annie Stewart started down the river having in tow the large barge Autocrat. The barge had on board a heavy cargo of wheat—about 825 tons—and the steamer over 150 tons. This grain is to be placed on board the City of Perth, and will about complete her cargo.

PRESBYTERIAN SOCIABLE.—The ladies of the First Presbyterian Church will give a sociable this evening in the basement for the purpose of raising a fund for the improvement of the church. A good time is promised and all the addenents usual at their gatherings are offered to their friends.

GRAND JURY ADJOURNED.—The grand jury of the State Circuit court stands adjourned, by order of the judge, until Friday morning at 9 o'clock. Considerable criminal matter still remains to be disposed of by that body.

SOCIAL.—A pleasant and interesting entertainment is anticipated at the Taylor street church this evening at the sociable and festival to be given by the ladies of the congregation. The public is cordially invited.

"PASSED OFF QUIETLY."—This is the stereotyped phrase which is so generally used by reporters in speaking of the degree of tranquility which characterizes elections. We can think of no other term more appropriate to employ in alluding to the congressional election of yesterday. There was an entire absence of the usual noisy confusion and excitement incident upon such events. Throughout the city yesterday the greatest quietude reigned supreme. Voters walked up and deposited their "snow flakes" with but little noise and did not indulge in the usual [illegible]. To the credit of the city we can truthfully state that there were no disgraceful rows about the polling places and little or no loud talk heard. Only two intoxicated men were arrested and but very few seen in that condition walking about the streets. Every one bears cheerful testimony to the fact that there has never been a more orderly and quiet election ever held in Portland. In the language of the average press reporter we can conclude this paragraph by saying "everything passed off quietly."

LARCENY BY BOYS.—We are informed that the case of the four juvenile offenders Willie Reynard, John Dougherty, George Conner and Charles Carroll, jointly indicted for stealing a sum of money from a store on First street, will be taken up in the State circuit court. This we believe is the first instance in the judicial history of this county where small boys have been put upon their trial for grand larceny. The case will doubtless attract considerable attention.

SAD BEREAVEMENT.—Only a week ago the infant child of Mr and Mrs Frank C. Frotzman was buried, and to day the mother will be laid beside the little one gone before her. Mrs Frotzman died yesterday morning very suddenly. Mrs F. has been in poor health for some months though the sad event of yesterday came unexpectedly. The bereaved husband has the sympathy of many friends in this hour of trial.

INTERESTING SERVICES.—In the chapel of the German congregation on last Sunday large audiences were present at both the morning and evening services. In the forenoon two young ladies of the congregation were confirmed, and in the evening the marriage ceremony was performed, the pastor officiating.

COURTS.—Monday being a non judicial day, of course no courts were in session. To day the United States circuit and district courts will convene at 10 o'clock at the court room in the new custom house building. At 9 A. M. the State circuit court will convene.

MILITARY NOTES.

Captain Marcus P. Miller 4th Artillery, is appointed to act as inspector on certain medical and hospital property at Fort Stevens, Oregon.

1st Lieut. Peter Leary jr. 4th Artillery, is appointed to act as inspector on certain ordnance and ordnance stores and camp and garrison equipage at Fort Stevens, Oregon.

Lieut. Daniel Cornman, 21st Infantry, Camp Harney, will proceed to Fort Boise, Idaho Territory, and report for duty during the absence on leave of Captain George M. Downey, 1st Infantry.

Captain Marcus P. Miller 4th Artillery is appointed to act as inspector on certain quartermaster's stores, camp and garrison equipage, subsistence stores and commissary property at Fort Stevens, Oregon.

Captain Marcus P. Miller 4th Artillery is appointed to act as inspector on certain articles in charge of the guard at Fort Stevens, Oregon, for which the officer of the day is accountable, reported the 7th instant as requiring the action of an inspector.

The instructions by the Department Commander of the 13th inst., detailing Capt. Joel G. Trimble, 1st Cavalry, as member of the board of officers convened by paragraph 8 special orders No. 132, current series from these headquarters, vice Moss, relieved, are confirmed.

Captain James Jackson 1st Cavalry, is appointed to act as inspector on the bedsacks in possession of Company F, 21st Infantry, at Fort Klamath, Oregon, reported by a board of survey convened under circular letter dated Headquarters, Military Division of the Pacific, San Francisco, California, Aug. 26, 1875, as not of the authorized length.

BRIEF NOTES.

Election over.

Steamer due this evening.

Several vessels are reported off the bar.

"What is the latest?" is the most popular conundrum.

Mr. Welch has been running as route agent in place of Mr. Hussey on the west side.

The Turn Verein will remove to their new hall on Saturday. Fifteen members were added to the increasing membership this month.

The new Catholic church edifice in East Portland is rapidly approaching completion and will be ready for occupancy about the 1st of November.

AMUSEMENTS.

The attendance at New Market Theater last evening was quite small, which was not to be wondered at when the fact that the election excitement and disagreeable weather were the elements in opposition. An attractive programme was offered by the Phelps Dramatic Troupe with Zoe Gayton, Mrs. J. M. Phelps and J. A. Herne as the leading people. "Under the Gaslight" was produced with the usual effects and some excellent acting, the performance concluding with the Dell [illegible]. To-night "Uncle Tom's Cabin" will be presented with Miss Gayton as Eliza and Cassy, Mrs. Phelps as Topsy, J. A. Herne as Fletcher and Gumption Cute, and R. C. White as Uncle Tom. We hope to see an improved attendance.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Knapp Burrell & Co. advertise the Ketzie water filters.

A. B. Richardson will sell at auction on Friday a fine collection of paintings, by catalogue at corner of First and Stark streets.

At the "White House" Lewis & Strauss, the gentlemanly proprietors, have had a large run of customers for the past six weeks. The ladies are pleased with their purchases.

Extraordinary inducements! Intense excitement. Immense crowds and everything harmonious at the great slaughter of paintings and chromos at 47 Front street! Over 300 sold last night at nominal sums, and our citizens will never have a better opportunity to invest in fine pictures than by attending this evening's sale. Mr. Troy is an off hand auctioneer, sells from the jump and without the aid of by bidders and cappers. The fact is if you want to fit up your parlors with elegant works of art you can buy them at your own figures. This is one of the very few fair square sales we ever had the pleasure of attending.

[illegible] over and the public are anxious as ever for Fabre & Birnes' coffee.

Without showers may fail and elections take place and still the rush will continue unabated to the clothing emporium of Beck & Waldman. They have a large and elegant assortment of goods for men and boys.

Travelers should not put up with the badly washed collars that are sent to them by hotel laundries but wear the Elmwood, which always looks well.

Drs. Adams & Owens First street, bet. Taylor and Yamhill, [illegible] which work wonders in curing rheumatism and other [illegible] diseases.

Mr. John O'Neill [illegible] the steamer for San Francisco, where he goes to buy a large stock of goods. [illegible] Portland. Mr. O'Neill will open [illegible] on the corner of Stark and First street, formerly occupied by S. J. March [illegible]. He will carry on an extensive tailoring [illegible] and also keep a [illegible] and fashionable [illegible] furnishing [illegible]. Mr. O'Neill will return in a few weeks, when he will be pleased to meet all his old friends [illegible].

[illegible] State Fair [illegible] roads and other modes of transportation were taxed to their utmost in carrying the immense outpouring of the people. A large proportion of these seekers for pleasure and profit visited the establishment of Beck & Waldman, First and Washington streets, for the express purpose of buying from the immense stock of clothing displayed to the gaze of the public. The prices seem [illegible].

OREGON.

The Dallas municipal election will take place next Monday.

The circuit court for Marion county has adjourned until November 8th.

S. J. L. Whiteman has been convicted in the circuit court for Marion county of the crime of mayhem and recommended to the mercy of the court.

The Dallas Itemizer comes this week with a greatly improved appearance. Its second and third pages are printed on new type which is clear and looks well.

A gentleman just down from Eugene informs us that farmers are everywhere preparing to put in their fall crops for which the late rains have put the ground in excellent condition.

The doubletree of Mr. Millsap's wagon broke as he was going down a hill near Dallas one day last week and his wife, who was on the wagon with him, was thrown out and pretty badly but not dangerously injured.

The Salem Mercury says: The grand jury has indicted all three of the parties who made the mistake near Silver creek falls some time since and shot a man's cow instead of an elk. Bail in the amount of $300 each was required and it was promptly furnished.

The Spirit of the West says: The Umatilla reservation comprises the greatest portion of all the good land in Umatilla county. The band of Indians inhabiting the reservation is said to be about 98 or 100 at the outside. As this band of Indians are few in number the government would do well to colonize them in the Wallowa country. This would remove them from the contaminating influence of the whites and place them off a respectable distance from all the thoroughfares that course through Eastern Oregon. This is a country well adapted for their sustenance, as it is well supplied with game and fish and grass in abundance. It is isolated and in every way suitable for their wants. It is estimated that there are from 700 to 1,000 acres of land for every man, woman and child on the reservation. Of this land there is not one acre in one hundred that is under cultivation. Give a white man the same facilities and he will raise more produce on 600 acres than all the Indians combined now raise. We hope to see this reservation thrown open soon for settlement. It would afford farms and homes, of 160 acres each, for 1,500 families. There is not to be found a body of land equal in area to this reservation that will begin to compare with it. Yet it is lying waste and completely under control of the Indians. Were it in the hands of the whites it would, in a few years, make one of the thriftiest settlements in the whole country east of the Cascade mountains.

THE TERRITORIES.

The railroad from Wallula has reached the city of Walla Walla.

The apple crop in Walla Walla is turning out much better than was expected.

About 100 tons of wheat is being shipped from Walla Walla daily. The price the paid is 50 cents in trade or 45 cents in money per bushel.

Some of the Walla Walla farmers are now sowing their wheat. The ground is very dry, and the process of putting it in might be called dusting it in.

Particulars of the Walla Walla fire received by mail corroborate the account by telegraph, and add that the fire is believed to have been the work of an incendiary.

How to Vanquish the Stomach's Tormentor. If the Enemy of mankind was permitted to elect his diabolical ingenuity in the invention of a new disease he could scarcely devise one more worthy of his genius than dyspepsia. The dyspeptic sufferer is tormented by symptoms resembling those of almost every known malady and is often worried into monomania by these conflicting and perplexing manifestations. A favorite though absurd hallucination of the victim of chronic indigestion is that he or she has heart disease. Dyspepsia has often been pronounced incurable, but experience has shown that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will vanquish it together with the constipation and bilious derangement which usually accompany it. Diseases of the kidneys and supposed rheumatic pains are also frequent concomitants of dyspepsia, but they too succumb to the above named invaluable corrective.

A DOOMED RACE.

THE BISON OF THE PLAINS—HIS HABITS—HIS ENEMY AND HIS DOOM.

A correspondent writing from the Black Hills gives the following interesting facts about the buffalo. The account reads like a fancy sketch, but any Western man will testify to its entire truthfulness.

Forty years ago the buffalo ranged from the plains of Texas beyond the British lines, from the Missouri and Upper Mississippi to the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains. Every portion of this immense area was either the permanent home of a vast number of buffalo or might be expected to have each year one or more visits from them at various seasons. Hunter tradition says that the first great break in this regularity occurred about the winter of 1844-5, in that portion of the country known as the Laramie Plains. [illegible] the whole section was visited by a most extraordinary snow storm. Contrary to all precedent there was no wind and the snow covered the ground evenly to the depth of nearly four feet. Immediately after the storm a bright sun softened the surface which at night froze into a crust so firm that it was weeks before any heavy animal could make headway over it. The Laramie plains being entirely surrounded by mountains had always been a favorite wintering place for the buffalo. Thousands were caught in this storm and perished miserably by starvation. Since that time not a single buffalo has visited the Laramie plains. When I crossed these plains in 1868 the whole country was dotted with skulls of buffaloes all in the last stages of decomposition and all apparently of the same age, giving most foundation to the tradition. In fact, it was in answer to my inquiry for explanation of the numbers, appearance and identity of age of the skulls that the tradition was related to me by an old hunter, who however could not himself vouch for the facts.

A curious fact illustrating the habits of these animals on the plains is cited by our author and is a leaf from the unwritten history of the buffalo, taken from the era when the Pacific Railways first spanned the continent. The winter of 1871-72 was unusually severe in Arkansas. The ponds and the smaller streams of the north were all frozen solid and the buffalo were forced to the rivers for water.

The Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe Railroad was then in process of construction and nowhere could the peculiarity of the buffalo of which I am speaking be better studied than from its trains. If a herd was on the north side of the track it would stand stupidly gazing and without symptom of alarm, though the locomotive passed within a hundred yards. If on the south side of the track even though at a distance of one or two miles from it the passage of a train set the whole herd in the wildest commotion. At its full speed and utterly regardless of consequences it would make for the track on its line of retreat. If the train happened not to be in its path it crossed the track and stopped satisfied. If the train was in the way each individual buffalo went at it with the desperation of despair, plunging against or between locomotive and cars just as the blind mood chanced to take them. Numbers were killed but numbers still pressed on to stop and start as soon as the obstacle was passed.

After having trains ditched twice in one week conductors learned to have a very decided respect for the idiosyncrasies of the buffalo and when there was a possibility of striking a herd "on the rampage" for the north side of the track the train was slowed up and sometimes stopped entirely. Late in the summer of 1867 a herd of probably 4,000 buffalo attempted to cross the Southern Platte near Plum Creek. The river was rapidly subsiding, being no where over a foot or two in depth, and the channels were filling with loose quicksand. The buffalo in front were hopelessly stuck. Those immediately behind urged on by the horns and pressure of those yet further in the rear trampled over their struggling companions to be themselves engulfed in the devouring sand. This was continued until the bed of the river nearly half a mile broad was covered with dead and dying buffalo. Only a comparatively few crossed the river, and these were soon driven back by hunters. It was estimated that considerably more than half the herd (over 2,000 buffalo) paid for this attempt with their lives.

There is a very marked and curious difference between buffaloes and domestic cattle. The cow seems to possess scarcely a trace of maternal instinct, and when frightened will abandon her calf without the slightest hesitation. The duty of protecting the calf devolves entirely upon the bulls.

I have seen evidences of this many times, but the most remarkable instance I have ever heard of was related to me by an army surgeon who was an eye witness. He was one evening returning to camp after a day's hunt when his attention was attracted by the curious action of a little knot of six or eight buffaloes. Approaching sufficiently near to see clearly, he discovered that this little knot were all bulls standing in a close circle with their heads outward, while in a concentric circle at some twelve or fifteen feet distant sat licking their chops in impatient expectancy at least a dozen large gray wolves, excepting man the most dangerous enemy of the buffalo.

The doctor determined to watch the performance. After a few moments the knot broke up, still keeping in a compact mass and started on a trot for the main herd some half a mile off. To his very great astonishment the doctor now saw that the central and controlling figure of the mass was a poor little calf so newly born as scarcely to be able to walk. After going fifty or a hundred yards the calf laid down. The bulls disposed themselves in a circle as before and the wolves who had trotted along on each flank of their retreating supper, sat down and licked their chops again. This was repeated again and again, and although the doctor did not see the finale, it being late and the camp distant, he had no doubt that the noble fathers did their whole duty by their offspring and carried it safely to the herd.

When feeding the herd is more or less scattered but on the approach of danger it closes and rounds into a tolerably compact circular mass. Although there is not a particle of danger in approaching such a herd, to it a novice requires an extraordinary amount of nerve. When he gets within three hundred yards, the bulls on that side, with head erect, tail cocked in the air, nostrils expanded and eyes that seem to flash fire even at that distance, walk uneasily to and fro menacing the intruder by pawing the earth and tossing their huge heads. The enemy still approaching some bull will face him, lower his head and start on a most furious charge. But alas for brute courage! when he had gone twenty or thirty yards Mr. Bull thinks better of it, stops, starts in instant and then trots back to the herd. Another and another will try the same game with the same result [illegible] to the [illegible] at [illegible] and killing, was [illegible] would [illegible] kill [illegible] that the temptation was too strong to be resisted.

The [illegible] week [illegible] of the public at [illegible] being given to the election has given commercial matters a very depressed tone during the day [illegible] have not been moved by any [illegible] general condition being one of [illegible] With only a fair degree of promptness [illegible] of [illegible] is going out to pay for wheat purchases [illegible] of the local money market is barely sustained and may be considered as likely to rule [illegible] at all return to the ordinary channels of trade [illegible] and perhaps as well as the moneyed institutions are still careful in making investments of a speculative character or placing large sums where they cannot be readily reached. When accommodation is asked by regular customers the banks are [illegible] enabling the legitimate trade of the city to move on [illegible] quietly perhaps but quietly at least, and without any serious embarrassment being felt for lack of funds.

Balance of Trade

During the first eight months of the present year the imports at the port of New York show a decrease of $[illegible] as compared with the same period in the [illegible] years [illegible] as against 1872 the [illegible] $[illegible] a marked decline in the foreign import trade of the metropolis of the country may well attract attention and start the [illegible] result. Either there has been a great deal of overtrading in previous years or the business of [illegible] the average. Both are undoubtedly true and the market [illegible] extreme [illegible] and every month brings us nearer to a revival of trade. The overstocking of the markets has naturally [illegible] the [illegible] manufacturing interests but [illegible] a more cheerful condition of things. It is to be hoped that the losses [illegible] the late commercial reverses will be of practical benefit for some time. The duties paid on imports for the first eight months of the year are only $1,700,000 less than for the same time last year, and $10,400,000 less than in 1873. As there has been but little change in the tariff for the past two years the difference in duties collected ought to be as great as the imports entered, provided the withdrawals were the same in each year. The facts are otherwise. The aggregate value of the goods entered is 12 per cent less than in 1874, whereas the collections are only [illegible] per cent less. The natural deduction from this circumstance is that the withdrawals have been larger and consequently that there are fewer goods in bonded warehouse than on the 1st September 1874. This being the case it confirms the view just taken that the good time coming cannot be far off. If there be such a reduction in the stock of foreign goods on the market as this statement of the case would seem to indicate it must lead to a revival in the foreign and domestic trade.

The gross exports for the same eight months aggregate $[illegible] in mixed currency. The amount is only $8,000,000 less than last year, and $3,000,000 below the total for the same time in 1873. On the face this is an excellent showing. If we have imported $34,000,000 less than for the previous two years and exported within an average of $5,500,000 as much as in those years the result cannot be otherwise than gratifying. A further analysis of the figures however shows a more marked deficit in our exports. The figures given above embrace [illegible] and bullion. If we deduct the treasure [illegible] we find the value of the merchandise and produce shipped to be only $[illegible] which is $[illegible] less than in 1874 and $[illegible] less than in 1873. The import figures on the other hand [illegible] $[illegible] which is [illegible] per cent more than the same item [illegible] the previous [illegible] years. Leaving the treasure movement out of the question in both statements we find that our imports of merchandise have been from $[illegible] to $[illegible] less [illegible] while our exports [illegible] have been showing a falling off from $[illegible] to $[illegible] for the same periods. The sum of the whole is that the exports of merchandise from New York have come nearer to paying for the imports of the same than in previous years.

General Trade

Is limited to a few transactions by buyers who remained in the city over Sunday, others staying at home to attend the election. There is good reason to expect that the advent of interior merchants to complete their fall stocks will take place during the week and that a reasonable degree of activity will be realized. Wholesale and jobbing houses are carrying full stocks of seasonable goods and prices are being put down to very narrow margins in many leading articles.

The transactions in domestic produce have been light during the day and shippers have had a little spare time. The vessels in the river due and en route from San Francisco have sufficient capacity to carry away a very considerable portion of the surplus wheat and it seems likely now that our wharves will soon be crowded with vessels loading for foreign countries. Should holders see fit to part with their grain freely at current rates a large [illegible] will probably take place during November [illegible] been seen during any previous [illegible] Buyers are now securing all [illegible] at our quotations but [illegible] advance prices on [illegible] parcels.

SEATTLE Homestead Association.

A Rare Chance for Profitable Investment.

IN CONSEQUENCE OF THE RAPIDLY ACCUMULATING interests and greatly increasing population property in the city of Seattle is held at prices regarded as exhorbitant, and in order to meet the demands of persons of small means seeking homes the SEATTLE HOMESTEAD ASSOCIATION has been organized composed of some of the most responsible men of that section. Tracts of land in the city and extending to the borders of Lake Washington have been secured surveyed [illegible] 120 feet each have been placed on the market for [illegible] and are now offered for [illegible] each lot payable monthly in sixty [illegible] without interest. [illegible]

In 1868 Seattle had a population of only [illegible] now [illegible] A large number are daily seeking tenements and find great difficulty in procuring them though buildings are going up in all directions the demand is still for more. The city of Seattle is beautifully situated on Elliott Bay, Puget Sound. It has fine natural advantages [illegible] with a most promising future. The three Coal Deposits now being worked with indifferent facilities by three different companies call respectively the Seattle, Renton and Talbot are producing 600 tons of Coal daily, which does not supply the demand. The manufacture of lumber is also an important and profitable business. Ship building is an active industry with other mechanical and useful occupations encouraging to the investment of capital and labor. Two opposing lines of Steamships direct to San Francisco, afford unusual facilities for freight and passage every week. Seattle is destined to be the Pittsburgh of the Pacific Coast. Her material resources are inexhaustible. Her Iron, Coal and Timber the three great commercial staples alone will make capital tributary to her interests. The valleys of the White, Black and Cedar rivers tributaries of the Duwamish river which empties into the harbor of Seattle will support a large agricultural population.

Lake Washington, 20 miles in length and from 2 to 6 miles wide is about two miles in a direct line from the waters of the sound. It is the intention of the Incorporators of this Association whose standing in community is a guaranty of [illegible] are dealing to open immediately an Avenue 80 feet wide, extending from the bay directly east through the Homestead lands to Lake Washington in which charming locality will be erected the mansions of her business men. The Avenue will be properly graded, paved and sidewalks laid at an expense of $15,000 and will constitute the chief drive and promenade from Seattle to the Lake. It will run along the City Park, the College grounds and Lake View Park. Lots on either side will command at least four fold the price paid. The Association will erect buildings for a First Class Hotel at the east end of the Avenue on Lake Washington. Plans and specifications can be seen at the office of the Company.

When all the lots are subscribed for the distribution will be made. The Choice of Lots, including the Hotel will be sold at public auction and the subscribers and the proceeds be divided equally among them. Due notice of the time and place of sale will be made. Warranty deeds based on a United States patent will be issued to subscribers without charge.

Let us only doubt the future growth of Seattle. [illegible] to realize the benefits of an immense [illegible] Her port is always open; neither ice nor shifting sand bars impede navigation. No pilotage or river towage to add to her freights. Clear sailing all the year round from her harbor to the ocean. Consider the matter carefully. Think too what San Francisco was in 1849, what chances of competency were lost by ignoring the future growth of that mighty city, as thousands can attest. Chicago in 1830 was but a small town [illegible] this opportunity slip. The small sum of $75 payable monthly without interest may make you comfortable and be a great benefit to your children. There can be no other investment requiring so small an amount of money that can secure such ample benefits.

(Carminative)

For Diarrhœa and Dysentery use Dr. Jayne's Carminative Balsam. As changes of climate or water, and indiscretions in eating often produce these complaints, travelers and others should always keep a bottle of this remedy by them. It never fails to subdue the most violent attacks, and it is equally serviceable for Cramps in the Stomach or Bowels, Griping Pains, &c.

For Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum and Colic use Dr. Jayne's Carminative Balsam. It relieves all soreness of the abdomen, allays the irritation and calms the action of the Stomach. It may always be relied on to give immediate relief, and besides being effectual, is a pleasant and safe remedy, easily administered to children.

For Asiatic Cholera and all Bowel Affections use promptly Dr. Jayne's Carminative Balsam. It checks the Diarrhœa, suppresses the Cramps which generally accompany attacks of Cholera,—and conquers the disease in its incipiency. It has frequently been administered in neighborhoods where the Cholera has been raging epidemically, and it has seldom failed to give immediate and permanent relief. The Carminative has maintained its reputation as a Curative for nearly forty years, is equally effective in all latitudes, and as a Standard Household Remedy, should be kept in every family.

YOUNG MEN

Who may be suffering from the effect of youthful follies or indiscretion will do well to avail themselves of this the greatest boon ever laid at the altar of suffering humanity. Dr. SPINNEY will guarantee to forfeit $500 for every case of seminal weakness or private disease of any kind or character which he undertakes and fails to cure. He would, therefore, say to the unfortunate sufferer who may read this notice that you are treading upon [illegible] ground when you longer delay in seeking the proper remedy for your complaint. You may be in the first stage, remember you are approaching the last. If you are bordering upon the last and are suffering some or all its ill effects remember that if you persist in procrastination, the time must come when the most skillful physician can render you no assistance; when the door of hope will be closed against you, when no angel of mercy can bring you relief. In no case has the Doctor failed of success. Then let not despair work upon your imagination, but avail yourself of the beneficial results of his treatment before your case is beyond the reach of medical skill, or before grim death hurries you to a premature grave. Full course of treatment $25 00. Send money by Post Office order or Express with full description of the case. Call, or address

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,

For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues. Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures, that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, that can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded, if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR

TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY & COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, by long and extensive use has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately, often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens; and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair the Vigor is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.
